SAVANNAH, GA - - Knights of Columbus Council 631 recently held its annual Barbeque for Catholic SCAD Students. The Barbeque was held on Saturday, October 3, 2009 at the Council's historic location at 3 West Liberty Street., Savannah, GA.

Members of CREED, an organization for college-aged and young adults in the Savannah area, came to the Council for hot dogs and hamburgers on the Council's patio overlooking Liberty and Bull Streets. Many of the students noted that this invitation was the first that they had received from an organization not directly affiliated with SCAD.

Council 631 Grand Knight Walt Harper said, "We loved having the CREED group last Saturday. It is refreshing to see the Catholic faith be nurtured and grow in these young adults." Harper also praised the efforts of Father Douglas Clark of the Cathedral of St. John the Baptist for his work with the CREED group.
